The Financial Advice Process

We recognise that the objectives and personal circumstances of each client are different.

What is right for one client may not be right for another.

We will listen to you to understand your objectives and circumstances. We will also ask questions to make sure we provide advice which is in your best interests.

When we first provide personal advice to you it will be explained thoroughly and documented in a Statement of Advice which you can take away and read.

The Statement of Advice (SoA) will explain the basis for the advice, the cost to you of implementing the advice and any commissions, benefits that we may receive or associations that we may have.

For administration platforms, managed funds and personal risk insurance products we will provide you with or make available a Product Disclosure Statement. This contains information to help you understand the product being recommended.

At all times you are able to contact us and ask questions about the advice and investments recommended.

You can provide instructions to us in writing, via phone or via email, fax or other electronic means. Please note however you are responsible for ensuring your instructions reach us.

We may provide further advice to ensure your plan is up to date with changes to your circumstances, changes in the law, or the economy or with an investment that you may have.

The further advice we provide will depend on the terms of an Ongoing Service Agreement you sign with us. This advice will typically be documented in a Record of Advice (RoA) which we will retain on file. You can request a copy of the RoA document at any time up to 7 years after the advice is provided.
